A tribute to frontline corona warriors

The year 2020 coronavirus pandemic is upending life on a global level as we know it. The highly infectious coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) is caused by severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2 (SARS-CoV-2).

While on one hand people across India and around the globe are largely confined to their homes with businesses and educational institutions all shut down in an attempt to contain the virus, and on the other hand doctors, health-care workers, medical staff members including ambulance drivers, police personnel, and sanitation workers are leading the battle against COVID-19 from the front. Putting their own lives at risk with selfless determination for the sake of saving lives, they truly are our heroes in these challenging times. While they are putting their own health, families, and most importantly their own lives at risk, the least we can do is appreciate their efforts and cooperate by staying safe indoors.

In response to the global pandemic, the under-resourced doctors are facing unprecedented challenges. The list of the sleep-deprived heroes includes doctors, nurses, medical cleaners, pathologists, paramedics, ambulance drivers, and health-care administrators. In the fight against coronavirus, the brave medical army stands strong with thermometers, stethoscopes, and ventilators as their weapons. Not to forget, medical researchers are working day in and night out against all odds, hoping to find the antidote to the disease.

Since the coronavirus outbreak, health-care professionals have not only experienced the gratification of healing patients and saving their lives but have also lost many battles along the way. On top of that, many doctors have even sacrificed their own lives in the line of duty.

Every day, the selfless warriors are giving it their all in health-care settings while cutting themselves off from their families and loved ones. The sacrifice that they are making for the safety and welfare of humanity is priceless and deserves lifelong gratitude on our end.

Message from Founder cum Secretary, Sukeshi Barui.

2020 was a year like no other. When we started out, we were looking forward to a great year of development and social changes, and with the strong development AshaBhavan Centre has seen over the last 22 years, we were well on track to achieving all the long-term targets we had set out in our strategy ‘ a world without barriers’.

Thanks to your support. I hope you will take the time to read through our annual report to learn more about the lives you have empowered.

Then covid-19 struck the world with full force. The global pandemic presents a crisis on a scale many of us have never experienced before. The toll it has taken on human life is heartbreaking, while it has also caused the largest economic downturn.

From the very beginning of the pandemic, our focus was squarely upon two things:

- Securing the well-being, health and safety of our own employees, and of our beneficiaries.
- Steering the organization successfully through this unprecedented crisis.

I am proud to report that we achieved both.

We implemented comprehensive hygiene standards across all our project locations and provided our employees with clear guidance – including the preventive measures they should take and impart to the beneficiaries. We also closed rehabilitation and educational centers and offices when required, in line with local regulations. Even today, the vast majorities of our employees are working from home and providing regular services to the beneficiaries. We also stand beside the families in need and provide food and other covid protective materials.

I am glad that my fellow staff members of the residential care centers who devoted their full time and stayed with the children for their care and protection in this difficult situation.

AshaBhavan Centre continues to reach out to its partners, peer groups, and key stakeholders to build a social movement through its programmes and advocacy work. We will accelerate our effort in this regard in the coming days. We stand committed alongside our teams and network of partners, allies, and supporters to redress the power dynamics, and build a more equitable world where no one is left behind.

COVER STORY

Mukhreja Khatun

My name is Mukhreja Khatun. I am resident of Krishnanagar village, a interior place of Purba Medinipur district of West Bengal. I am currently pursuing Ph.D. in Anthropology from the Vidyasagar University under supervision of Dr. Sumahan Bandyopadhyay, Associate professor of Anthropology department. Now I am very happy and look forward for the bright days, but the journey of my life to reach today where I am was not easy and full of hindrance. I had born in a very poor family having two elder sister. I was a victim of polio when I was only one and a half years old.

When I was a class two student I lost my mother. Then the hardships of my study life began, but I was fond of study and with so many difficulties I completed secondary examination. Then I did not find way to continue my education, at that time my cousin came with the news that an NGO could help me for study that was Asha Bhaban Center.

Then the light of hope awoke in my mind that I was getting support and admitted in class XI and continued the education. Asha Bhavan Centre bears the cost of studying but I had to suffer a lot for other expenses. With determination I did M.Sc, but for this I had to take a lot of help from my teachers. Today I also qualified NTA-NET, and see a dream of success, and also I will stand beside those girls like me. But I will always remember the contribution of SADHANA Sponsorship Program support for my studies.

Thank you Mr. Partha Mukherjee, Asha Bhavan Centre and all other person who stand beside me in my dark days.

Our Programmatic area:

Early Intervention: Early intervention means identifying and providing effective early support to children and young people who are at risk of any kind of disability and poor outcomes. Asha Bhavan Centre in collaboration with the Queensland University has developed the LEAP-CP Program (Learning through Everyday Activities with Parents of infants with Cerebral Palsy), which adapts the clinical practice guideline to respond to these unique challenges facing families of a child with disabilities. We also work with the National Trust and run DISHA early intervention clinic.

Rehabilitation: WHO defined Rehabilitation as “a set of interventions designed to optimize functioning and reduce disability in individuals with health conditions in interaction with their environment”. Asha Bhavan Centre’s rehabilitation promotes individual development, empowerment of PwDs and their families and inclusion in society. We provide these services in those remote places of west Bengal places where there is no other services available for the PwDs.

Care and Protection for CWSN: Under The Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection of Children) Act 2015, Asha Bhavan Centre established Child Care Institute Children’s home for the girls children with Special Need and foster their Care, Protection and Rehabilitation.

Community Mobilization: The communities are empowered to remove barriers for people with disabilities and their families, and play an active role in facilitating the inclusion of people with disabilities and their families in community activities. The role of ABC is to mobilize the community to ensure that negative attitudes and behaviours towards people with disabilities and their families change, that the community is supportive of CBR programmes, and that disability is mainstreamed across all development sectors.

Education: Even though we are one nation, we still continue to have a rural-urban divide in every aspect and education also falls in that sphere. There are a number of studies which have demonstrated a wide gap coming in between rural and urban education. The gaps can be witnessed in various ways. To improving the rural education Asha Bhavan Centre is introducing modern and better techniques to the education system which can help rural students come on par with the urban students.

Health and Nutrition: Nutrition is a critical part of health and development. Better nutrition is related to improved infant, child and maternal health, stronger immune systems, safer pregnancy and childbirth, lower risk of non-communicable diseases (such as diabetes and cardiovascular disease), and longevity. Healthy children learn better. People with adequate nutrition are more productive and can create opportunities to gradually break the cycles of poverty and hunger.

Nutrition is critically important to the human body in terms of growth and development, overall health and wellness throughout life, and the function of organs and body systems. It also plays a role in disease management and supports overall quality of life.

Our Programmatic area:

Women Empowerment: The empowerment and autonomy of women and the improvement of their political, social, economic and health status is a highly important end in itself. In addition, it is essential for the achievement of sustainable development. The full participation and partnership of both women and men is required in productive and reproductive life, including shared responsibilities for the care and nurturing of children and maintenance of the household.

Human Resource Development: As per the Census 2011, India has strong 268 lakhs persons with disabilities in India. Most of these populations stays in rural areas and still deprived from rehabilitation services due to shortage of trained rehabilitation professionals. The Right to free and compulsory education Act 2010 is talking about minimum 1:30 teachers and students ratio; however Rehabilitation Council of India (RCI) had trained so far approximately one lakh professionals in total. PwDs has improved manifold in quality and quantity. Due to economic constrain we are still shortage of trained manpower and affecting the various programme running for the welfare for the persons with Disabilities. Therefore ABC came forward for the cause of Disabled Persons and produce manpower with various training programme.

Humanitarian Assistance: Humanitarian aid is seen as "a fundamental expression of the universal value of solidarity between people and a moral imperative". Asha Bhavan Centre for Humanitarian Assistance lead for COVID pandemic and Cyclone disaster assistance and reached more than 5000 families around the Howrah district with life-saving aid such as food, covid protection materials.

Liaison and Networking: Asha Bhavan Centre working as the State Nodal Agency Centre of the National Trust and create the bridge between Central And State Government to implement the Policy and activities under the National Trust Act 1999. We also work more than 50 Organization throughout the state to facilitate the services and Schemes of the National Trust in every part of West Bengal. Asha Bhavan Centre actively support and facilitate the 23 district authorities of the State to constitute the Local Level Committee for ensuring the Legal Guardianship certification and protect the rights of Person with disabilities.

Shreya Mondal, born in a lower middle class family at Gouripur village of Howrah district. Her father runs a small shop in the village to maintain the family of 4 members.
